

NEW for 2012

~ No Bleed Lips ~

On the subject of lines around the mouth, the potential problem with having semi-permanent lipliner/lipblush is that the colour can migrate into the fine lines around the mouth – not attractive.

Now, with the new technique which I have pioneered, colour bleed is no longer a problem!

The procedure takes a little longer than normal, 3 sessions instead of 2, but well worth the results. So, my lovely model now has a good lip colour with no risk of colour bleed into the fine lines and as a bonus, will now use the Peri-Oral Plumper to complete the look – watch this space for more pics!
